Thus spoke Joe Judge, the Nationals' young first baseman when the writer called upon him yesterday.

Judge three weeks ago was operated upon by the club's physician for hernia. He was discharged from the hospital five days ago and is recuperating slowly.
"This stuff about my never being able to play ball again is a whole lot of bunk," declared Judge.

"Before I consented to undergo the operation I made it plain that the truth must be told about my condition. The doctor who performed the operation informed me that I would be in better shape physically after he had cut me open than before, and I know he told me the truth.

BROWNIES WIN AGAIN. IN OVERTIME GAME

Chicago, July 31.—The Sox won today's pastime with the Athletics, 4 to 3, on a timely hit in the eleventh round. Williams, with three runs to back him up, pitched shut-out ball for seven innings but weakened in the eighth. Two passes and three singles tied the score, and Faber retired the side. In the final round a single, a pass and another single of Bush killed the Athletics' chances for the day. Score:

Wins Second from Indians

Heavy Hitting by Griffs

Cleveland Twirlers Are Hammered by Nationals, Locals Capturing Second Game of Road Trip from Sixth City Nine by 11 to 1.

By HAROLD JOHNSON.

The Washington Herald's Clereland Correspondent. Cleveland, Ohio, July 31.—Heavy firing by the Nationals in the first and third innings, linked with seven ghastly bobbles by the Speakerless Injuns, spelled another victory for Griff's upstarts this afternoon, the Capital City clan atoneing for their II to 0 rout of Saturday by manhandling the home guards, II to 1. It would have been a gala matinee for the visitors but for an accident to Harry Harper, who held the hostiles to two scattered blows—both singles by Rothuntil a liner from the latter's bat, in the sixth, riddled his abdomen and sent him post-haste to the dry dock for repairs.

Roth, the hitting scamp of the Injun at Griff's big south-paw and the pill bore at Griff's big south-paw and the pill bore into the latter's stomach with terrific force. Harper fished the ball out of his person, however, and pegged to first, retiring the hitter, then collapsed, writhing about on the greens in agony.

Heroic treatment was applied and he haanaaged to walk from the slab, making way for Du Mont, who finished, allowing one blow—a triple by Chapman which proved unavailing—in the last three and two-thirds innings.

proved unavailing-in the last three and two-thirds innings.

Griffmen Hammer Ball.

The Griffmen put up a sparkling de-fensive game behind their pitchers, in ad-dition to crowning all the offerings of Fohl's slab nominees and made the re-cently displaced leaders look like sand-letters. It must have been a tough after-neon of for Tris Speaker, who hobbled noon off for Tris Speaker, who hobbled down to the Cleveland dugout aboard crutches to sit through the proceedings. Injun officials announced tonight that the $50,000 centerfielder would be off watch for two weeks while the sprain in his left ankle is rounding-to.

Mr. Fohl must be a patient bloke as well as a glutton for punishment. At any rate, he sent the angular and erratic Lowdermilk back for more abuse after the Griffmen had sawed off five runs in their opener, mixing four wallops with a pass and three errors. Ten Nationals batted during the rioting, the fans at Oriole Park Saturday, and he kept up his good work yesterday. He is probably the fastest man on the local club, and apparently knows how to use his speed on the bases.

Indians Hope for Rain.

From the fourth on it was an even combat with Klepfer and Lambeth, who succeeded him, holding the Nationals at Says the Philadelphia Ledger yesterday: Howard Lohr, center fielder of the Brill team, of the Delaware County League, left immediately after Saturday's game to join the Cleveland Indians. Lohr is looked upon as a great prospect and is looked upon as a great prospect and is pastime, and Lowdermilk's peg to center, trying to force Dan on Foster's bounder, fixed the stage for some run-making.

fixed the stage for some run-making. Milan slugged through Chapman and Moeller scored, then a pass to Rice filled em up.

Turner had an easy play on Gharrity's grounder, but kicked the ball to short-center, letting Foster and Milan count.

Morgan sacrificed, and Henry's out. Wamby to Gandil, sent Rice home, Gharrity followed with No. 5 when McBride reefed the first of his three safe knocks. Harper also poled one and Graney's wild peg enabled McBride to reach third, where he was marooned when Moeller, up his second time, slashed to Turner.
